
Left 4 Dead

Posted by ORCA - 2008/12/29 19:17

I played the cough Downloaded Version cough and I liked it - so i have gone and purchased the game. All i need now is some Zombie Shooting comrades to back me up, my vote goes to Jason to be the girl :woohoo:

Now at a slightly reduced price of £20.24

If the Zombie Mode on COD WaW scares you, this will require a spare pair of pants !

4gb Download ! :dry:

Can't get on my steam account so have ordered a copy from Amazon should be here next week, have been told that if I can't get my steam account working that I will not be able to play multiplayer is this correct or will we just set up a server or invite each other to play as we do on zombi mode :)

PS has Andy got it and nino ?

Happy new year all:silly: get some drink down

You should be able to get Steam to send you a password reminder via the client if i remember correctly, mine auto logs in so i dont get the prompt.

You need to have your account working to play online as it relies on there servers plus your friends list, but we can start from level 1 and work our way through, i have got to level 3 at the moment and Damn do they run at you in the waves, i keep running out of ammo, but luckily Pistol ammo is endless !

Cant speak for Andy, he wasnt too impressed by the demo, but this game is all about teamplay, not a single player going off all Arnie, the Team AI is good, but with 3 hapless humans the game will be more tougher, i arrived at the hospital before the other 3 and got set upon by about 30 zombies at once :woohoo:

Graphics are on par with Half Life 2 as its the Orange Box engine, but the guns are good but ammo and health are in short supply so keeping together is key, and the buggers run at you from behind !

See you all next year, and hopefully Nino will be sober by mid Feb !

Played L4D with Daren and Dead Guy last night, my Mic was playing up so i couldnt talk, but Dead Guy was living upto his name. I had to revive him 2 or 3 times in a couple of rounds.

My advice to Daren about dont disturb the little girl "Witch" fell on death ears as he shot her, then realised why you leave her alone as she pounced on him and ripped him to bits :woohoo:

I think Daren had to go to bed early as he was abit scared :huh: bless, and we was only playing the game on Easy mode !

It is a good laugh and seeing your first wave of 20+ zombies running at you is good - but i definately like the M16/M4 gun in the game, fire it in short burst takes them down.

One side note from last night, when we do get a group of 4 people i think that the people who havent played it before should lead, its much more funny :dry:

Hang on I only left for 1 minute, And when the chips where down and we were on the last leg of the level you left us to die on the roof :angry:

Some zombie with a long tongue licked me to deaf and dead guy was getting a good kicking (funny to watch them stamp on his head thou):)

Think jason needs to get this also nino, is there a map you follow or the you find it out on your own?:unsure:

Ps can I get a bigger torch ? can live with the guns

What i think Daren was trying to point out, is why bother with the Zombies when you have Steam Friends to kill you ;)

Click the image to see the original taken by Dead Daren :P
