That reminds me, i never did look for a swear filter add in...

Not suprised really, the consoles always get it first via there DLC at cost, then once a few weeks or months pass and the dust has settled the PC version is released.

The new Zombie map sounds good that you are split up and have to join up, adds a new level of team work, hopefully you can join up before level 10 hits :ohmy: But the bad news i heard ages ago its just a rehash of Asylum, so another lazy day for the developers...

You can definately tell its the Asylum map tho, its a big map with loads of ways in, electric fence looks good.

I notice why Nino is getting sooo excited about the new Zombie map though... look at the screenshot, what you can buy off the wall :woohoo: :kiss: :P ;)

:army:

Darn image wont load for some reason, at about 24 seconds in, left wall - its a Betty for sale :woohoo:

lucky i checked my emails :lol:

installing on server at the moment, Rackage did state anyone who patched early didnt get the new maps installed D'oh !
:ohmy:

The new 3 multiplayer maps are listed as mp_kneedeep.....Kneedeep (Derrr)

mp_subway.....Subway and

mp_natchfeuer.....Night Fire (damn germans)

So dont try and type in mp_nightfire else you wont get very far, i have stuck the maps at the beginning of the rotation 1 after the other so we can get to play them, they run in the order as above, so start with kneedeep.

I've stuck them on to only rotate the new 3 for the next few days.
