Okay guys me and Daz have been playing BC2 for the last few nights and are starting to enjoy it quite a bit.

We only really play conquest this is due to the fact we can fly heli's one of us pilots and the other is the gunner and I eject leaving Daz to die.

Or we jump into a tank and have a drive to the oppositions base and blow some stuff up and once again I jump out and leave Daz to die its either that or die with him.

In fairness we dont really care about dying that much we spawn again and find a heli to jump in.

Bobby and Pootle both have it as well and I expect that they will be on playing it again this week.

A HUGE + for the game is the ease of joining each other no more IWNET shit to deal with.

As for MW2 the stimulus package is out this week I have it ordered got it with 10% off last week dont expect much from it though.
