
Empty Server

I think we need to decide wether to leave the AWE mod on the server. I think the lack of public joining the server says it all really. IMO the + side of not having airstrikes, helis and the noobtubes etc is outweighed by no custom classes, the initial weapons setup and lack of players to shoot at.

I have flicked it back to our normal Ranked Mode and i have done a Yellow Pages trick on the server by calling it aaa before the Clan Name which should rank it onto the first 2 pages of the server listings, we will have to see if this makes a change.

At the end of the day its whether we want a server for ourselves with very little public or a ranked server with plenty of public to shoot.

Hello all it's 22.20 saturday night and the KBD clan is empty ,but out of 20,000 server's on the web having a quick look most off them are the same .
don't think the problem is our server, is the game getting old now. is everyone waiting for the new maps .
haho still no one to play against will go and watch tv then :(:(
