And that is with a personal best streak of 28.

Ok this server was prety much one shot kills much like COD4 with the added bonus of no kill cam I found a beauty position to snipe from the strange thing is I'm totally crap with the sniper rifles!!

I don't know where you guy's get this myth that I camp when since the swap from COD4 to 5 I spend most of my time on the move. If we are playing HQ I am always there trying to capture it and I spend a lot of time running around. Obviously if I've captured a HQ then I will take up a position to defend it but thats not camping. Also you will be pleased to know no more betty's from me.
